City of Dallas Gives Special Recognition to Mayor Brian Dalton and Ken Woods Jr. for Their Many Years of Public Service

DALLAS, Oregon (December 12, 2022)

The City of Dallas is pleased to specially recognize two elected city officials for their years of service and the commitment they have made to the community. Mayor Brian Dalton of twenty-two years and Councilor Kenneth L. Woods, Jr. of forty years served.

Brian Dalton, City of Dallas Mayor, has served the City of Dallas for twenty two years, ten years as a City Councilor, serving as president in 2009-2010, and twelve years as the mayor of Dallas. Brian Dalton spoke about his time as an elected official saying, "Our unusually large, nine-member Dallas City Council is amazing. Before becoming mayor, it was my honor to serve on this body for 10 years, which gave me a sense of the energy, dedication and wisdom that its members bring to the table for an impressive 30 meetings a year. No other body deserves the credit for our livability over time or has such sway over our future in our much-loved community than does our City Council. It is my pleasure to celebrate the hard work of its members."

Kenneth L. Woods, Jr., City Councilor, has served on the Dallas City Council since November of 1982. When talking about his time on council, Kenneth Woods Jr. commented, "I've been on the city council a long time, I've seen opportunities missed, and I'd like to change that. It's time for a change. I want to make Dallas the envy of Oregon by creating the best place for our residents to live, work, and play".

The City Of Dallas is also pleased to recognize and thank City Councilors Terry Crawford and Bill Hahn. Terry Crawford served the community for six years and Bill Hahn for eight years as City Councilors.
